It is likely an appeal will be taken on the grounds of the case not coming within the jurisdiction of Justice Edes court,....The case of Merritt E. Wells, charged with the attempted burglary of Mrs. Geo. Plaster's house and cutting Mrs. Plaster, has been set for 10 a, m. tomorrow. Some one entered Mr. Plaster's house last night and when Mrs. Plaster entered the room, he rushed at her with a knife inflicting a painful wound on the finger. Wells was sleeping in a barn near by and when arrested by an officer this morning tried to escape. Mrs. Plaster recognizes him as the man who assaulted her with the knife, but Wells stoutly denies being the man, claiming that he can establish by people wherever he has lived that he is a nice man. He acknowledges having slept in barns for and ealf gloves from 50c, to $1,15 per several nights past and having served pair also fall winter umbrellas, all at 20 days in a California jail for larceny of which he also claims to be innocent.

IN THE PAVILLION.

A grander success than anyone has ever imagined is the result of the good work in the pavillion. President Apperson said this morning that he was agreeably surprised and felt extremely grateful to Balem business men for their work this year. The pavilion is a little Columbian exposition in itself the like of which has never been s en in the history of Oregon state fairs. In special honor of this fact, the board of agriculture have decided to open the pavilion to the pubis very light to date.
